BIB 505 Biblical Theology and Interpretation - 3 Units
Introduces biblical theology as a discipline that interprets Scripture as a coherent and unfolding narrative centered on God's redemptive purposes. Students examine major biblical themes and the relationship between biblical theology, exegesis, and systematic theology, with attention to the unity and diversity of Scripture. Emphasis is placed on tracing themes within the Bible's storyline and considering the formative significance of Scripture for Christian faith, theology, and ministry.
