INTERNSHIP (INT)

INT 510 Field Education - 0 Units
Engages students in a supervised, field-based ministry experience that integrates academic study with practical service in a church or ministry setting. Students complete mentored ministry activities while engaging in structured reflection on ministerial practice, vocational identity, and spiritual formation. The course emphasizes experiential learning, guided mentoring, and reflective assessment to support the development of professional competence and Christian character. Field education may be taken as an elective within graduate programs and may be repeated with approval.

INT 601 Practicum I - 3 Units
Engages students in a supervised practicum designed to foster ministerial identity and vocational formation through guided field experience. The course integrates mentored ministry practice, theological reflection, reflective writing, and communal discernment within an approved ministry context. Students complete supervised ministry hours, participate in structured reflection, and develop a growing philosophy of ministry while engaging the joys and challenges of professional ministry.

INT 602 Practicum II - 3 Units
Provides an additional supervised practicum that builds on an initial ministry placement through continued mentored engagement in the same approved ministry context. The course emphasizes advanced theological reflection, ethical discernment, reflective practice, and communal learning. Prerequisite: INT 601.
