

RESEARCH SKILLS (RES)

RES 502 Research Strategies - 1 Unit

Cultivates graduate-level research and academic writing skills through guided practice in research design, strategic resource discovery, evaluation of scholarly sources, and the preparation and integration of research materials into academic writing projects.

RES 520 Interpretation and Ministry Tools - 0-1 Units

Develops practical skills in biblical interpretation using English-language exegetical tools. This course introduces lexicons, commentaries, concordances, and digital research platforms and trains students to evaluate and apply these resources responsibly in ministry contexts.

Equips students to analyze biblical texts, compare interpretive options, and integrate scholarly insights into clear ministry communication without requiring prior study of biblical languages. Note: Students will need access to the software used for instruction.