

AFFILIATE FACULTY

Affiliate faculty members are generally those persons with annual part-time contractual responsibilities at Trinity in either teaching or administration; however, they also have major commitments to another employer, which prohibit them from full participation in daily campus life. They are appointments of the Dean of the College.

David K. Bryan, 2020

Director of TEDS Undergraduate Teaching Department
Affiliate Assistant Professor of New Testament

BA, James Madison University
 MTh, Luther Seminary
 MDiv, PhD, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School

Dr. Bryan leads the undergraduate teaching department of Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. Before coming to TEDS as an adjunct professor and Masters Programs Coordinator, he previously served on a church planting team in Madrid, Spain. He is the co-editor of Ascent into Heaven in Luke-Acts (Fortress, 2016), and has published other works related to the Gospel of Luke. His current research focuses on authority in ancient and contemporary contexts as it relates to the New Testament.

Daniel MacKinney, 2012

Affiliate Professor of Spanish

BA, University of Illinois at Chicago
 MA, Middlebury College
 EdD, Loyola University, Chicago

Dr. MacKinney served as a high school teacher, coach and advisor for 34 years at New Trier high school before coming to teach Spanish at Trinity. He currently serves as a volunteer chaplain at the Lake County Jail and as a tutor and leader in children's ministries in both Waukegan, IL and Kenosha, WI. He is the second of eight children, father of three and the grandfather of five. Besides Spanish and Latin America, his area of study is single gender education as it affects the development of boys from single parent homes.

Isaac Mahler, 2020

Affiliate Professor of Biblical Studies and Christian Ministries

BA, Seattle Pacific University
 MDiv, Evangelical Seminary

Isaac Mahler has over 15 years of experience in youth ministry working in a variety of church and parachurch organizations. Mahler currently works as the Ministries Director for Camp Timber-lee where he oversees summer camp, retreats, and the gap year program as well as hiring speakers and worship bands. He has had the pleasure of serving as the speaker for many retreats and summer camps as well as teaching seminars on youth ministry for the EPA Conference of the United Methodist Church and for Youth for Christ in Washington. Isaac's passion for youth ministry stems from his desire to reverse the unfortunate trend of students graduating from high school and leaving the church behind simultaneously.

Thomas Mathisen, 2020

Affiliate Professor of Bible & Ministry

BA Cedarville College
 MA, Reformed Theological Seminary

Prof. Mathisen graduated from Cedarville College with a bachelor's degree in communications and a minor in Bible, and from Reformed Theological Seminary with a Master's in Religious Studies. He pastored at several churches in Illinois before becoming the Chief Operations Officer at the Rockford Rescue Mission. He currently serves as Trinity's Executive Director at Camp Timber-lee in East Troy, Wisconsin.

James R. Moore, 1996

Affiliate Professor of Biblical and Interdisciplinary Studies

BA, MA, Indiana Wesleyan University
 PhD, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School

Dr. Moore pastored churches in Illinois and Indiana before coming to Trinity. He is currently Associate Professor of Educational Ministries in the Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. He has also been associate dean of the Divinity School, director of administration for the doctoral programs and assistant dean of Trinity Graduate School. As an affiliate faculty member for the college, Dr. Moore teaches in interdisciplinary studies. He has authored numerous published articles and curricula and has taught at public schools in Illinois and Indiana. Personal interests include engaging world-and-life view issues in the Wesleyan theological tradition and serving in the local church.

Maralee Scott, 2014

Affiliate Professor of Education

BS, University of Northwestern, St. Paul, Minneapolis, USA
 MEd, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA

Maralee Scott currently teaches engineering and communication media arts at Aptakisic Junior High School in Buffalo Grove, IL. Mrs. Scott has taught students from first through eighth grades in all subject areas. In 2002, Maralee was awarded participation in the Fulbright Federated Teacher Program, spending three weeks to study schools and culture in Japan. She went on to earn her National Board Certification as a Middle Childhood Specialist in 2003. Mrs. Scott was awarded a NASA Endeavor Fellowship, and earned her STEM (Science, Technology, Math, and Science) Education certificate through Columbia Teachers College, New York, and the Goddard Space Center in Rye, NY. Mrs. Scott consults with educators around the country and has had an article published in an Illinois Reading Association journal. As an affiliate faculty member in the Division of Education, Mrs. Scott teaches Methods of Elementary Mathematics. Personal interests include reading, cooking, kayaking and spending time with friends and family. She has two adult children and lives in Buffalo Grove with her husband and two dogs.

Brent Strom, 2012

Affiliate Professor of Education

BA, Judson College
 EdM, University of Illinois
 MA, BreadLoaf School of English
 MA, Northwestern University
 EdD, Loyola University